The International School Psychology Association (ISPA)
Global Networking Forum
Weekend Webinar Series

Series 1: The Impact of Covid-19 on
School Psychology Around the World

Sunday 28th February 2021: Supporting teachers during Covid-19

Host location:Melbourne, Australia - 5pm in host location timezone
Presenter:Dr Kristina Turner from the Department of Education, Swinburne University
Facilitator:Associate Professor Monica Thielking
Cost:Free

Dr Kristina Turner is the Course Director for the Bachelor of Education (Primary) and Master of Teaching (Primary) courses and a Lecturer in Primary Education at Swinburne University in Melbourne. She has worked as an educator in a variety of school and university settings. Kristina is a nationally renowned researcher in the areas of teacher wellbeing and pre-service teacher emotional intelligence. Her current research projects examine the effect of teachers' use of positive psychology strategies on their wellbeing, teaching practice and students' learning.

ISPA represents school psychologists from 42 countries and the ISPA weekend webinars are designed to unite our international school  psychologist colleagues. Webinars will go for 2-hours and will occur on the last Sunday (in host location) of the month and   each webinar will occur at approximately 5pm in the host location's time zone. This gives school psychologists from around the world at least one  opportunity to attend at a reasonable hour. Recordings will be available to ISPA members and can be accessed on the ISPA website.

To register for the next webinar and international networking event please go to:
ISPA Webinar 3 - Australia